The UPPA welcomes more than 1700 international students per year (1771 international students in 2017/2018, 1853 international students in 2018/2019).

With over 300 bilateral Erasmus+ agreements (180 partner universities) and 109 inter-university collaboration agreements, it is instrumental in exchanges between students, lecturers and researchers worldwide.

Owing to its geographical proximity to Spain, the UPPA is developing original collaborations with cross-border universities in both teaching and research.

The international relations office

Is responsible for providing information to UPPA students who wish to travel abroad in the framework of their studies, and welcoming international students who come to our university.
